We Dedicate This Yearbook...

The summer of 1964 marked the advent of the 15th modern Olympic games, located in Tokyo, Japan. And with the games came the spirit of good will and fair play, which was felt by contestants and spectators alike.

It is to these ideals of the Olympic games--the spirit of advancement through competition, the elimination of political and national prejudice, and the principles of honesty and integrity--that we dedicate this yearbook, with the profound hope that they may not only be utilized in athletic endeavors, but also be borne by the nations of the world to promote a peaceful and enduring existence.

ACTIVITIES

Art Club Plans Christmas Cards and Trips

The old aphorism still holds true: Good things come in small packages. Despite the size of the Art Club, the members have boasted of more activities than many clubs. Original Christmas cards and note paper were made and sold, from which the proceeds were used for cultural activities. The group had a Christmas party and planned a trip to Toronto. Guest speakers also added to the year's agenda.

The officers were Nancy Davis, president, and Karyn Nicholson, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Glenn again advised the group.

"Ask Any Girl"

The Senior Class received little recognition, but a great deal of satisfaction from their production of "Ask Any Girl" in January, 1965. The comedy centered around the romantic triangle of a small town girl, Arlene Victor, husband-seeking in New York, and two brothers, Ray Biggs and Clint Starr, who own a New York advertising agency. The main plot was ushered along by Arlene, Clint, and Ray in the main lobby of the Madison Avenue Girls' Hotel while the other actors wandered on and off the stage.

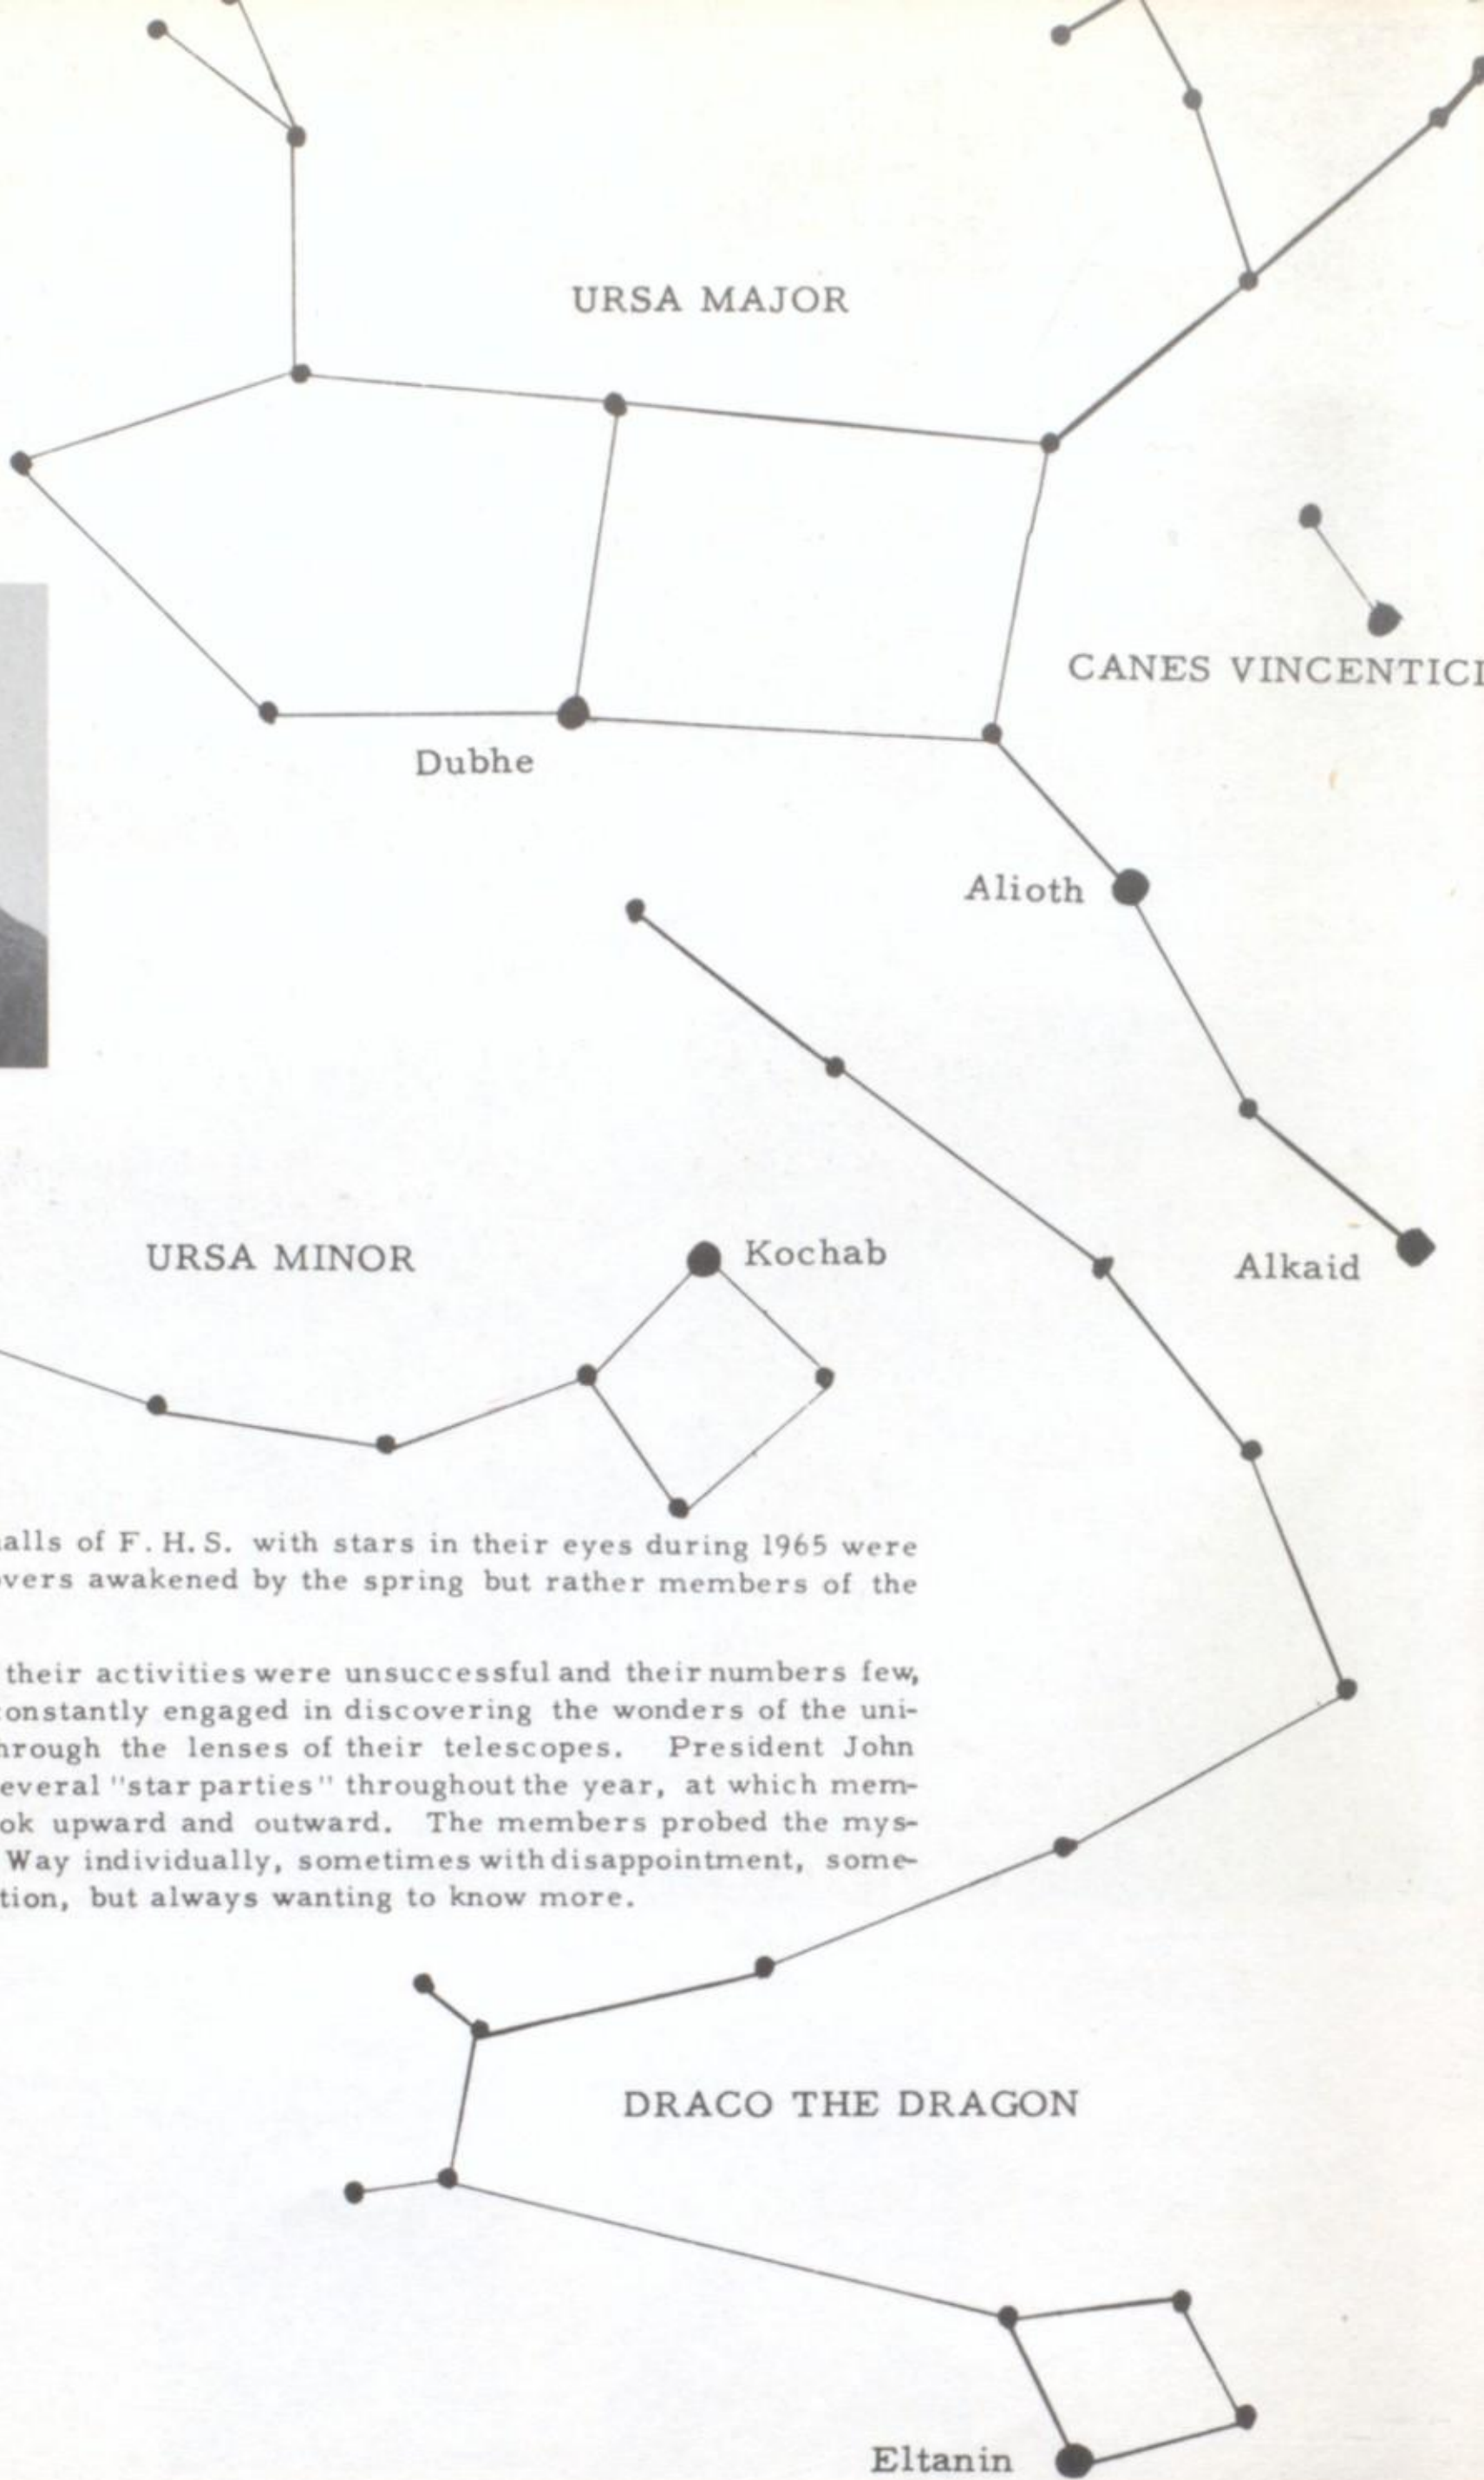

Four memorable characters were Jan Umphrey and Linda Cox, cast as Arlene's two spinster aunts, and Gary Lockwood portraying a shipping clerk who thought he was a painter to the dismay of Barbara Balsom, receptionist at the hotel.

But the character who brought howls of joy from the audience as she thumped across the stage, grumbling of calories, chocolate-layer cake, and a lack of males was Christine McKelvey. As the Iowa country-girl Jeannie, Chris stole into the hearts of nearly everyone.

Mr. Ray Sherpitis, director, and Mr. Eugene Schoenrich, co-director, worked with the cast and crews to produce the comedy. Jan Hermann, Cathy Letson, and Brian Dates assisted Mr. Sherpitis as student directors, who formed committees and helped make the production a success.

Mr. Nichols

Boys roaming the halls of F. H. S. with stars in their eyes during 1965 were not light-headed lovers awakened by the spring but rather members of the Astronomy Club.

Although several of their activities were unsuccessful and their numbers few, they actively and constantly engaged in discovering the wonders of the universe around us through the lenses of their telescopes. President John Mosley organized several "star parties" throughout the year, at which members gathered to look upward and outward. The members probed the mysteries of the Milky Way individually, sometimes with disappointment, sometimes with satisfaction, but always wanting to know more.

Band Members Explore Two New Realms of Music

The Dance and Pep Bands, Majorettes and Band form the Farmington High School Band Department. The entire organization is smoothly run by the practiced hand of Mr. R. Zimmerman.

In the fall, the marching Band provides entertainment during the half-time of the football games. With the passing of football, the Band assumes the role of concert Band.

We would like to express our thanks to Mr. Lloyd Smith, Band Director in Mr. Zimmerman's unfortunate absence.

"The Best School Is an Informed School" is the motto of the Journalism II class. Thursday mornings they live up to their motto by selling a four-paged, five cent issue of the students' newspaper, the Blue & White. Each issue is filled with news about school activities, editorials, and topics of current interest. The paper is put out by an all-Senior staff and is advised by Mr. Peel.

Thursday the work begins for the staff when they receive their assignments and the story ideas are gathered. The journalism students then write and type the stories which are then submitted to Mr. Peel for editing. The Farmington Enterprise then sets the corrected stories in type. When the Enterprise returns the type, the journalism students then proofread it and send any errors back to be reset. The page layout is then decided and headlines are written and set up by the staff. Then the paper is ready to put to press.

Can I Help You?

The CIHU (Can I Help You), established in 1960 by Dr. Frank Laubach, had another profitable year in 1965 at F. H. S. President Janet Lawshe, Vice-President Brenda Thompson, and Advisor Mr. Barrons led the club in sponsoring dances, bake sales, and the annual spring carnival. The profits from their activities were contributed to the Laubach Fund and other publicly-supported organizations.

Karen Boise and Joan McGregor, secretary and treasurer, helped plan trips to Washington, D. C., Chicago, and New York for three club members. All those associated with CIHU agreed that 1965 was a profitable year.

Miss Grzyb

Cheerleading exploded into 1965 with more new cheers. Miss Grzyb was the sponsor this year. School spirit was brought to a healthy glow by the cheerleaders' morning pre-game cheers. Located in the main lobby, they drew large crowds of enthusiastic spectators as they went through their paces.

Along with this newness, our cheerleaders continued to do a fine job at the games. Their energetic support of the teams inspired players to many victories.

Varsity Captain Judy Hennessy and J.V. Captain Velma Bishop felt that this year was a most successful year for the cheerleaders.

Nuclear Disarmament Is Debated

This year one of the main objectives of the Debate Team was to create more enthusiasm among the students. This was done through the articles in the Blue & White and by taking part in the Winter Sports Assembly.

Our Falcon debaters had a good season under the helpful direction of Mr. Smith who was also chairman of the league. We took third place for the Interlakes Conference behind Southfield and Walled Lake, the negative team having 4 wins, 0 losses; affirmative, 1 win, 3 losses. With these five out of eight wins, we were able to take another plaque for "Excellence in Debating." Also, for the first time in eleven years, we placed first in the District Tournaments.

Goodwill Ambassadors of Today's Modern World

The Exchange Club is one of the most active organizations at F.H.S. Its major purpose is to make our exchange students' visits here more enjoyable. The club also helps to promote the American Field Service and the Youth for Understanding foreign exchange programs.

The main event of the year for Exchange Club members was Brotherhood Week. During this period they were hosts to exchange students from all over the Detroit metropolitan area. This year Brotherhood Week did much to advance the entire student body's understanding of their foreign visitors' countries and customs.

This year's officers were President Linda Cox, Vice-President Jori Dickerson, Secretary Kris Hendee, Treasurer Janet Lawshe, and Historian Carol Griffin.

In the fall of 1964, Farmington Senior High extended a warm welcome to two exchange students, Clinton Starr and Michael Hortmann.

Clint, from Sidney, Australia, came to the United States under the American Field Service. He gave the students at F. H. S. a good understanding of the people and customs of his native land. Clint stayed with Eric Sauter.

Mike, from Duisburg, Meiderich in northwestern Germany, came to Farmington through the Michigan Council of Churches program. Mike gained many friends at F. H. S. and amazed many people with his excellent command of the English language. Mike's interests lay in math and physics. He was reluctant to leave the United States and said that he would like to return to study in the future. Mike lived with one of our faculty members, Mr. R. Sherpitis.

The year of 1965 brought an addition to our foreign exchange students. Alexander Recchione from Santiago, Chile, joined our student body later in the school year because he had just finished eleventh grade in Chile. Since our winter season corresponds with South America's summer season, Alex came during his summer vacation. Alex resided with Senior John Gordon and was sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches.

During the summer of 1964, Farmington Senior High was represented abroad by four F. H. S. students. Under the Youth for Understanding Program, Seniors Eva Broadman, Jori Dickerson, and David Denton traveled to Germany, Finland, and the Netherlands respectively. Jill McElroy traveled south of the border as our representative to Brazil under the American Field Service. All were greeted warmly and encountered many new and challenging experiences. They reported enthusiastically on their experiences and all hope to revisit their foster families someday.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Hall and the officers, the French Club had one of its most successful and active years since its creation. A July picnic started the ball rolling. Old and new members then attended a pot luck dinner, a hayride, the Old World Market, and the University of Detroit play, School for Wives. To top off Homecoming, Le Petit Tanque Orange won first prize. Later the French Club and the other language clubs sponsored a dance during the semester break.

The officers included President Sandy Schulze, Vice-President Carol Griffin, Secretary Liz Senob, Treasurer Jill McElroy.

FTA Explores World of Teaching

The club had numerous activities during the year which served to acquaint the members more fully with the teaching profession and teaching methods. These activities included attending seminars on teaching at the University of Detroit and Eastern Michigan University, hearing Mrs. Kahl speak on teaching in foreign countries, having Mr. Race come and speak on group process teaching, and hearing Miss Arndt and Mr. Clark, two of Farmington's student teachers speak on the approach a college takes to prepare a student for teaching. Members held a bake sale and sponsored a dance as fund raising projects and then finished the year with a picnic.

The F. T. A. is organized to provide an opportunity for young people to examine the possibilities of teaching and to explore the profession. One of the club's main purposes is to develop leadership qualities and professional attitudes in the members.

Future Nurses Train for an Exciting Career

Mrs. Crust

Future Nurses gives interested students an opportunity to gain valuable experience in the nursing profession. This year the club participated in some very beneficial activities, such as preparing useful articles for hospitals and listening to guest speakers.

Mrs. Crust sponsored the organization this year. The president of the club was Connie Aldrich; Liz Senob, vice-president; Alice Niven, secretary; and Dora Johnson, treasurer.

GAA Keeps Girls Fit at FHS

Many of the high school girls actively participated in the Girls' Athletic Association this year. Advisor Miss Reynolds, President Sue Frieling, Vice-President Joanne Bennett, Secretary Alexa Larson, and Treasurer Joan McGregor planned activities for the club. Janet Lawshe, major points manager, and Kathy Austin, minor points manager, tallied points for the members.

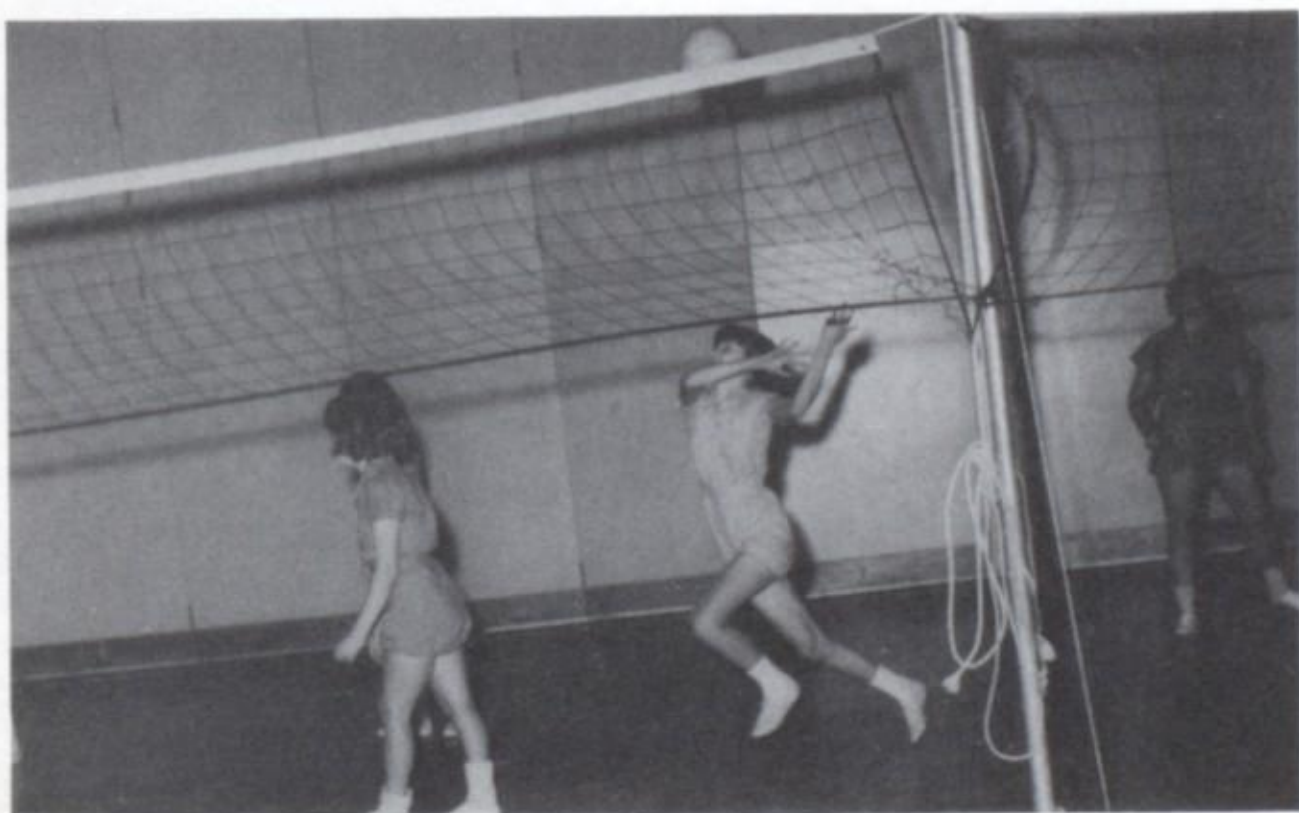

The club attended several pro and college sports events this year, and the faculty joined in the fun at the annual student-faculty volleyball game. The year proved to be of value to all those concerned.

Woodpushers Finally Meet Their Mates

The Chess Club innovated a new phase in the activities this year. Farmington's Chess Club participated with fourteen other schools to form the Greater Detroit Area Chess League. This was the first time Farmington has had an active chess team. The League held a tournament each semester. Every week Farmington participated in the meets, choosing a five member team from the ranks of the members.

In the first tournament, Farmington's small team made a poor showing. However, by the time the second tournament had started they had some experience and were able to put in a much better season. Although the school as a whole did not make an extremely impressive season, two senior members achieved distinction. Steve Harshfield made a club record for the greatest number of games won on the first board.

Perry Jamieson set a League record when he won a match with an Oak Park player in six moves.

The club was advised by Mr. Neuhauser and the officers were Perry Jamieson, president, and Leonard Fredericks, vice-president. The Chess Club has a unique constitution that provides for a legislative organ consisting of one member from each class. This body is known as the House of Knights and effectively deals with new situations as they arise.

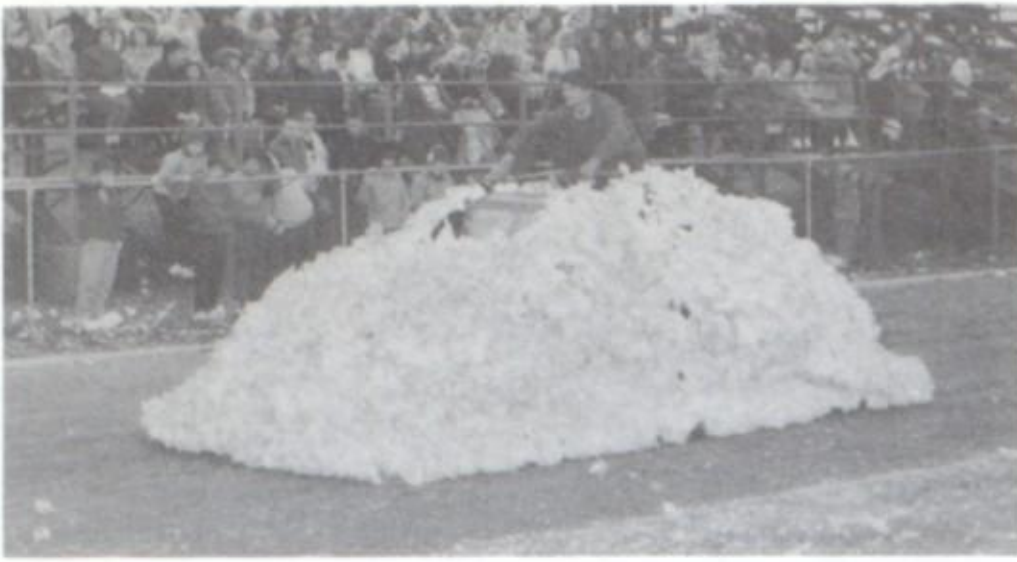

Baubles, Bangles, and

Despite the rain and wind of October 9, the usual Homecoming spirit filled the air. Beginning at 2:30 p.m., the floats traced the traditional parade route. The Farmington Band led the procession.

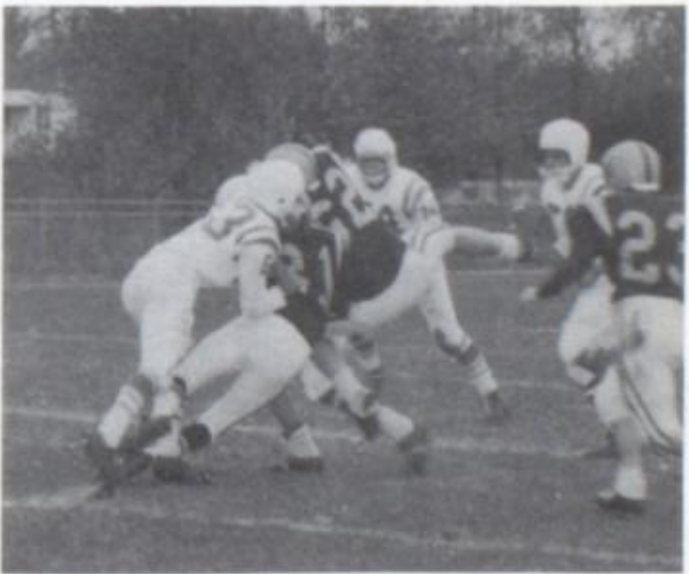

At half-time the floats and cars circled the field as everyone awaited the announcement of the winning float, Le Petit Tanque Orange. The introduction of Queen Sherry Tucker and her court--Pat Ayres and Judy Hennessy, Senior Representatives; Barbara Balsom, Junior Representative; and Nancy Gagnon, Sophomore Representative--immediately followed.

Even though the second half of the game recommenced with as much enthusiasm as the first, the Falcon team was unable to trounce the Walled Lake Vikings.

Once again the Skyliners played at "Queens and Quarterbacks," which was climaxed by the crowning of the Queen and her court. Victory or no victory, baubles, bangles, beads, and smiles reigned over Homecoming 1964.

This year's Latin Club, in an effort to attain a more complete understanding and appreciation of Roman culture, joined the Michigan Junior Classical League and the American Classical League. Instituted to bring Latin and the classics close to the student level, these two organizations stimulated a great deal of interest in ancient culture.

Another Latin Club activity was the annual trip to the Old World Market. Members attended this function as guests of the French Club.

In June a Roman Banquet was held in the courtyard, and all participants were in the traditional toga.

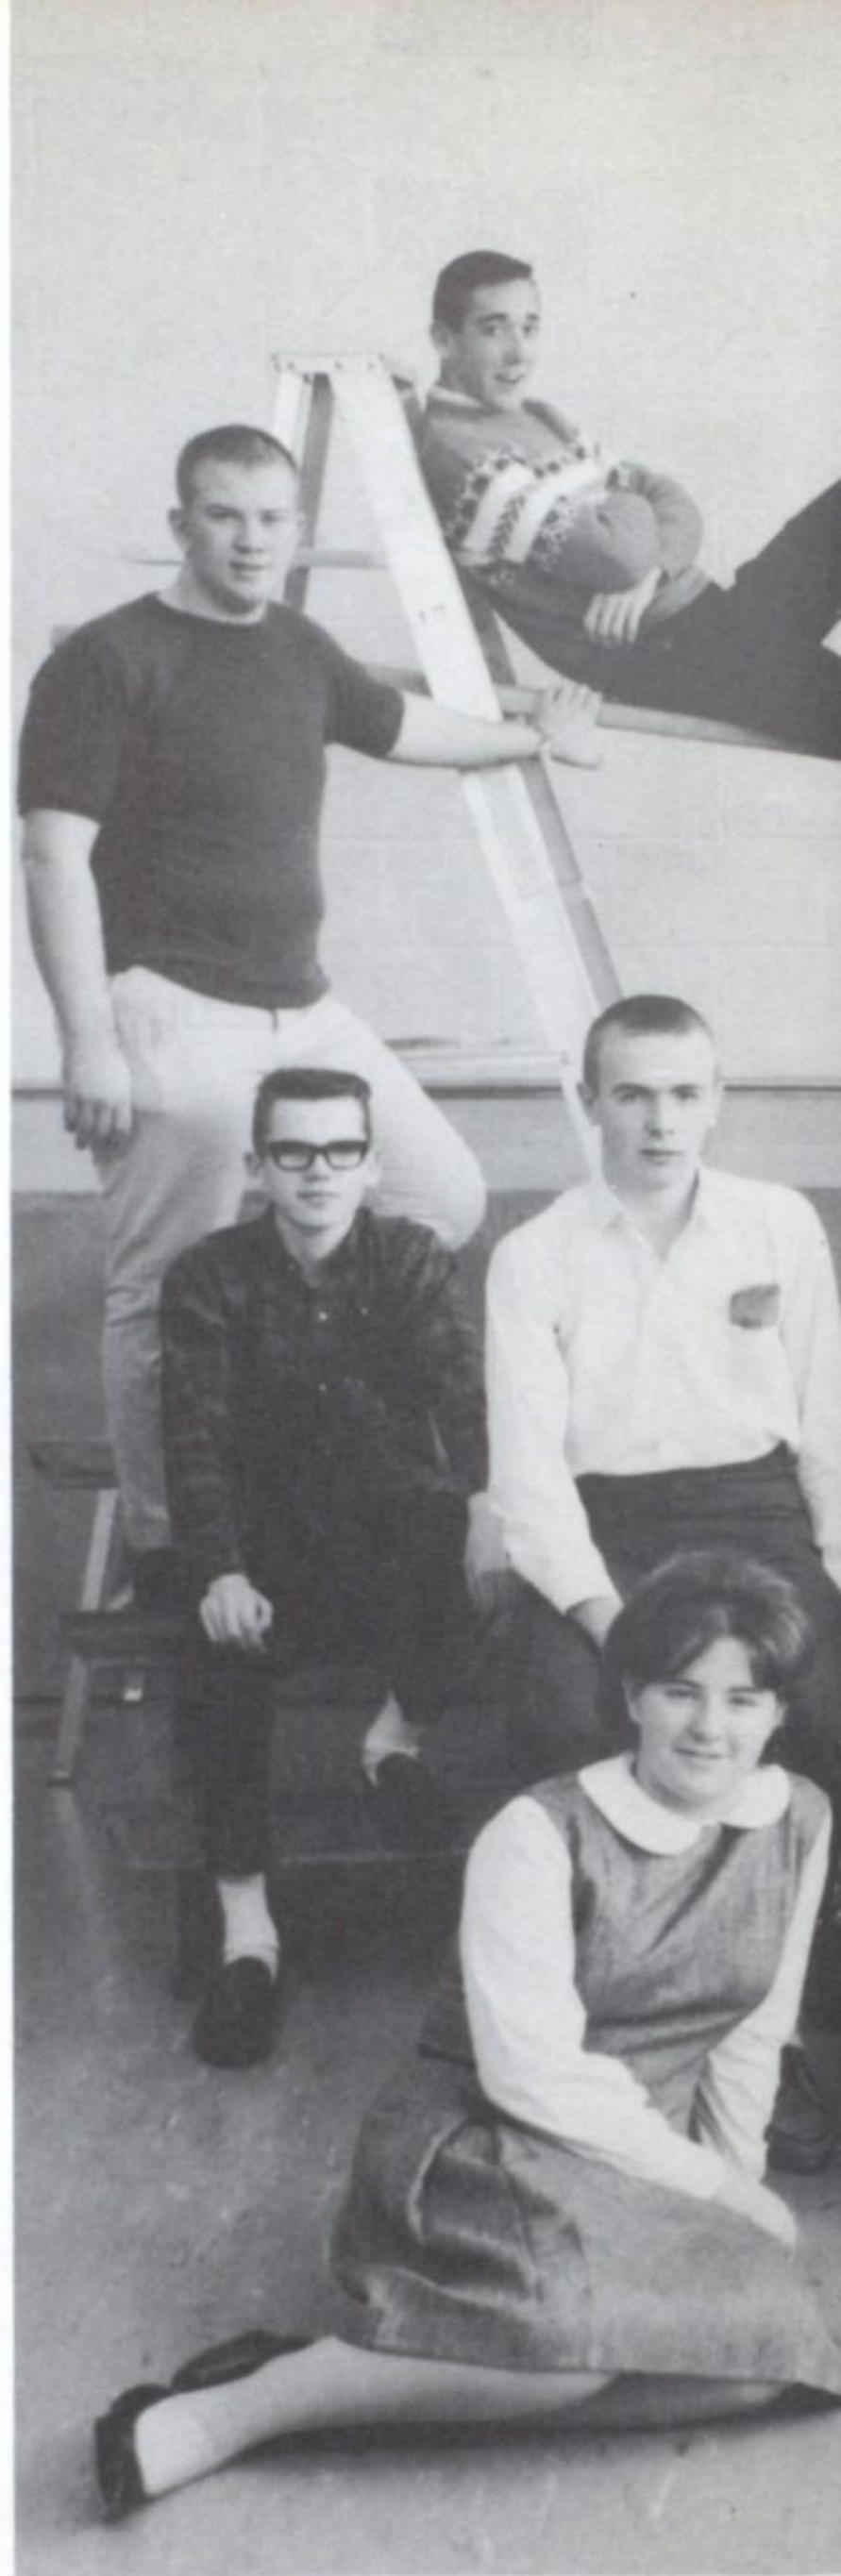

Model U.N. Represents France, Australia, and the Ivory Coast

Representing France, Australia, and the Ivory Coast at their two General Assemblies, the Farmington Model U.N. achieved their aims during 1965. The members of the Model U.N. became more aware of world situations and helped interest others in world affairs.

Led by Co-Chairmen Steve Harshfield and Perry Jamieson and Secretary-Treasurer Jerry Wagner, the members formed one of the most active U.N.'s ever at F.H.S. They sponsored two meetings with delegations from over thirty schools participating in the state-wide program. The meetings held before the two General Assemblies in March and April at Hillsdale College and U. of D. High gave the members a chance to meet their opponents and practice U.N. procedures.

Farmington's four musical groups, under the direction of Mr. William Feucht, had a very enjoyable and rewarding year.

The chorus, which is composed of male and female voices, studied a wide variety of vocal selections ranging from classical to pop music.

During the year, the members of the Girls' Glee Club studied the fundamentals of music, and displayed their knowledge through their presentation of many songs requiring three- and four-part harmony.

At different times throughout the year, the Falconaires, an eighteen-member group of mixed voices, appeared in concerts and at civic functions, maintaining their traditional vocal excellence.

Also making many public appearances were the Twelve Tones, a select group of female voices. This group displayed its abilities through the expert handling of numerous difficult songs.

The Pep Club, headed by Kathy Stuart, president, and officers Marsha Dembecki, Lorraine Williamson, and Jan Umphrey, helped to generate school spirit for the athletic events at F. H. S. Pep rallies before games and signs aided the Falcons to victory after victory. The Pep Club actively participated in organizing the welcoming parade and football game in honor of the Olympic Champion, Rex Cawley. The club also sold refreshments and programs at basketball and football games.

Rollcall Improves Traditional Yearbook

With the diligent assistance of Editor-in-Chief Linda Cox, Business Manager Mary Blome, and Mr. Ray Glenn, whom the staff cannot adequately thank for his time and effort, the Rollcall staff was able to innovate an unforgettable yearbook. Working one class period each day, the members designed and laid out specific sections of the 1965 annual. Without the perseverance of the staff and the efficiency of the bosses, such an undertaking as this would have been impossible.

Rollcall work begins the first day of school. As seen below, the staff decides how to produce the best yearbook with the most number of pages for the least amount of money.

After the picture schedule has been set up, the photographer from Powell Studios snaps shots for a period of three days. Linda Cox particularly enjoys setting up the props; she always has her hands in something (upper left).

Ellen and Karen choose the picture that is the lesser of the two evils (lower left).

After the write-ups have been typed, they must be sprayed to prevent smearing. Dennis Moore does the honors (middle lower left).

Joan and Alexa paste up the pictures (middle lower right).

The editor supervises the paste-up work of Karen Unger (lower right).

After the entire book has gone to press, it's time to relax. Alexa reads the Blue & White (middle left) while Linda, Mary, and Sandy pull a prank on Mr. Glenn by pouring his precious glue into the sink (upper right).

Officers Jay Stokan, Dave Cornwell, John Esser, Sue Smithem, and Advisor Mr. Taylor planned the activities.

Spanish Club Enjoys Productive Year

Miss Cramer

Under the direction of their advisor, Miss Cramer, the members of the Spanish Club participated in many activities of a Spanish nature. In doing so, these students were given a better understanding of the Spanish-speaking countries' literature, customs, and history.

Among the club's activities were a trip to the Old World Market, a Spanish banquet, and a caroling party.

The officers were John Mosley, president; C. Karwoski, vice-president; Sue Frieling, secretary; and Noralee Stock, treasurer.

A Link between Faculty and Student Body

Student Council, the coordinator of student activities, began the year with the Elixer Mixer Dance. A club supply cabinet, open at all times, was then established to promote responsibility and to make art supplies readily available to interested clubs and classes.

The Council Workshop proved to be a meaningful learning experience for representatives as well as advisors. Such things were hashed and rehashed as questionnaires for students' opinions of Council activities, a bulletin board of projected activities and committee reports, precinct voting for representatives, and ways of acquainting students and teachers with the entire Student Council movement.

The 1964-65 officers were President Mike Mesler, Vice-President Brian Dates, Recording Secretary Linda Terry, Corresponding Secretary Debbie Halperin, and Treasurer Sandy Schulze. Mr. Graham, Mr. Nichols, and Mr. Wubbena observed the meetings and contributed worthwhile comments.

"Once Upon A Mattress"

FHS tried its hand this year with a full-scale, off-broadway hit, Once Upon A Mattress.

The cast was headed by Larry Adcock, Chris McKelvey, Ruth Clifton, Craig Anderson, Joyce Ray, Terry Taggart, Brian Dates, David Stidwell, and Mike Gregory. Under the expert direction of Mr. Peel, Mr. Feucht, Mr. Zimmerman; the enthusiastic student directing of Sue Reynolds and David Stidwell; publicity chairmanship of Cathy Letson; and choreography of Marsha Dembecki, the play was as big a success as it was fun putting on.

The Varsity Club is one of the oldest clubs at F. H. S. The members participate in both social activities and services to the community. In addition to their annual help with the Goodfellows' Drive, selling popcorn at all the home games, and sponsoring the Pancake Supper, this year they sold night shirts and football jerseys.

The members of the club are accepted only after a rigorous day of initiation. To be eligible, the prospective member must have participated in one of the varsity sports and earned his letter.

Better Leaders for Tomorrow's Government through

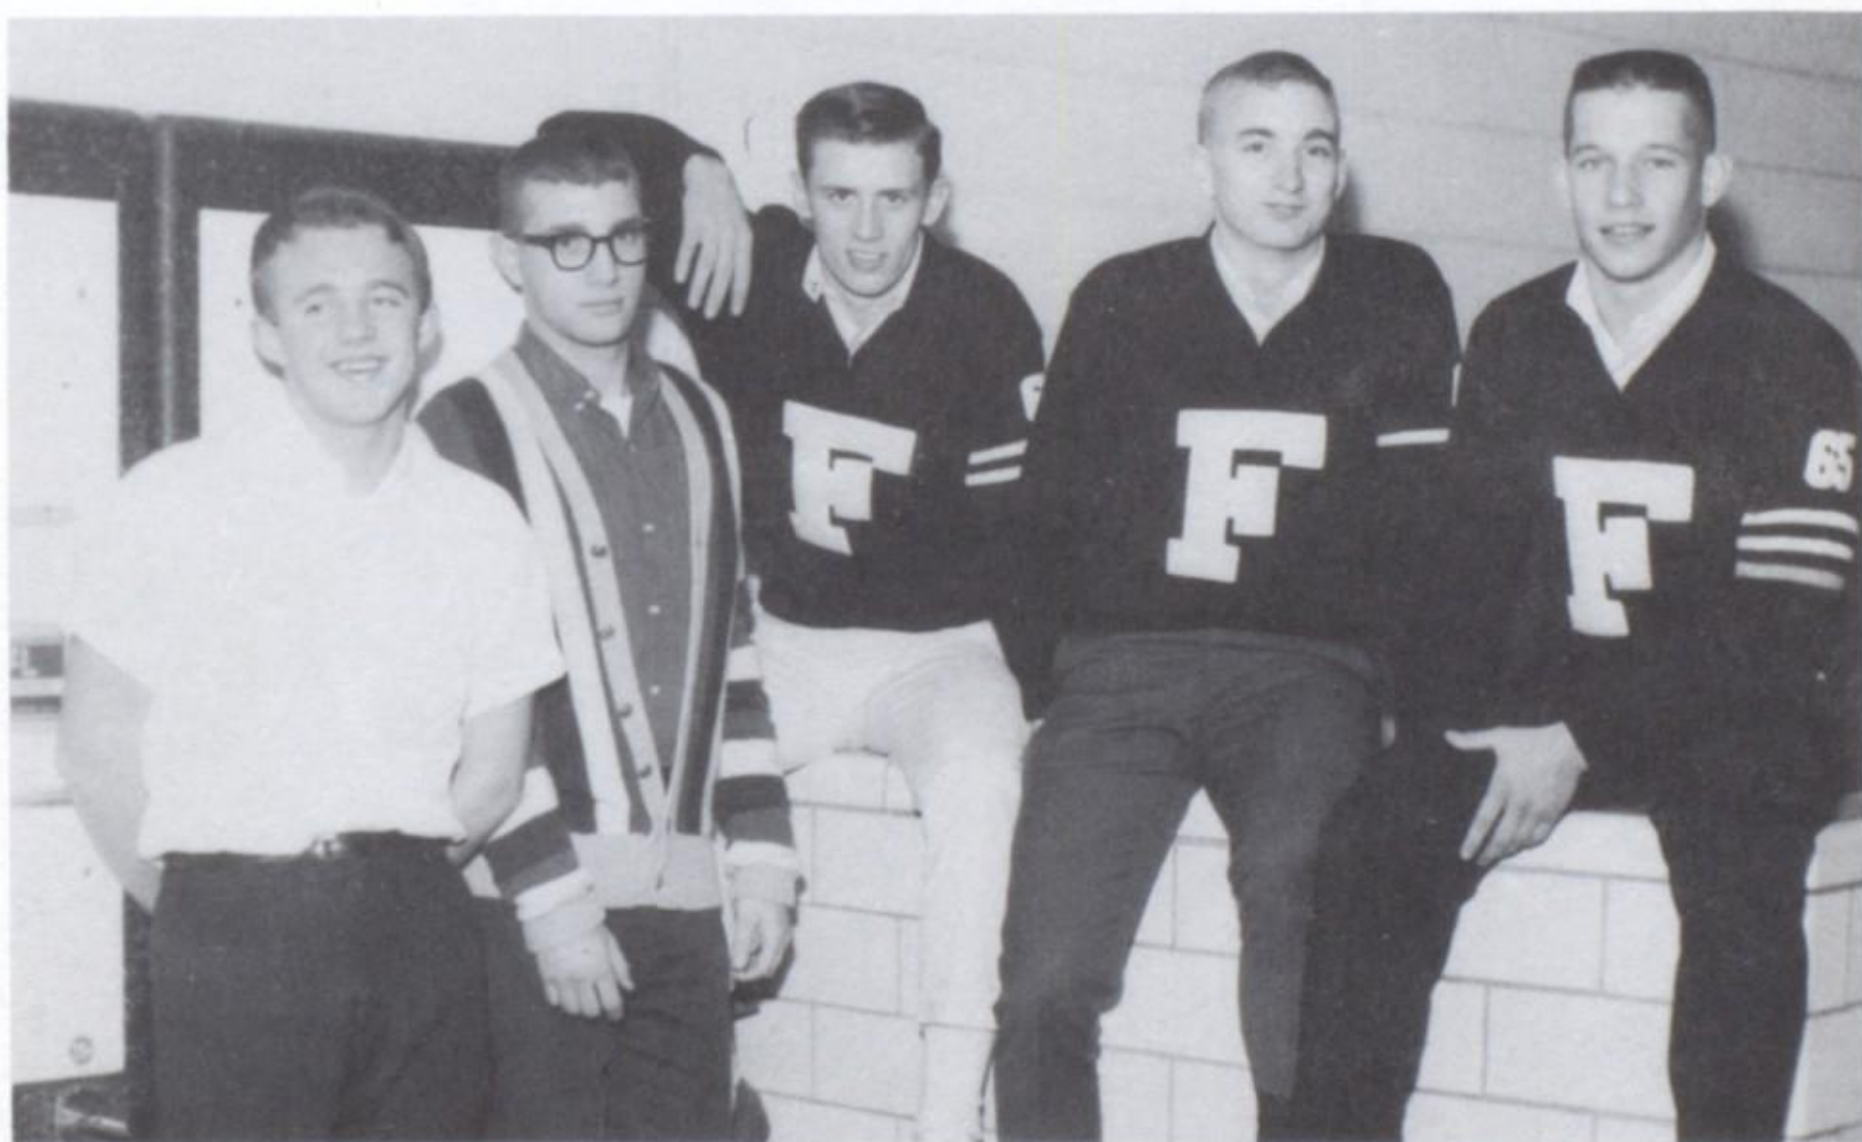

Participation in a simulated state government was the keynote of Wolverine Boys' and Girls' State. The boys, who traveled to Michigan State University, and the girls, who gathered at University of Michigan, learned the workings of government through campaigns, conventions, elections, and policy making.

Last summer Sandy Schulze represented Farmington High at Wolverine Girls' State; her alternate was Kris Hendee. Brian Dates, King Cotton, Dick Johnston, Mike Mesler, and Terry Nielsen attended Boys' State.

These interested students first signed up in the Guidance Office, and then the Junior Class and the faculty selected the delegates. They were chosen on the basis of duty, honesty, leadership, alertness, patriotism, cooperation, and enthusiasm.

Have Rewarding Year

The key word in the Y-Teen organization is growth. As a member of the YWCA, girls endeavor to form the finest Christian thoughts and attitudes. Their goals, to grow in friendship with people of all races, religions, and nationalities and to grow in the knowledge and love of God, encompass a great deal. They demand a searching and open heart and love and respect for their fellow man.

In achieving these high ideals, the Y-Teens perform acts of service throughout Farmington. They realize the increasing need for youth participation in society today.

This year Y - Teens gave their time to such activities as adopting two senior citizens and giving an international dinner and a membership tea.

Besides giving to the community, the Y-Teens have also received something. They have received the satisfaction of serving and being a part of today's advancing world.

Cross Country Team Races to Conference Victory

Second Row: C. Koehler, P. MacDonald, T. Winfree, C. Evangelista, R. Taggart, G. Schulz, M. Maattala, L. Groff, R. Kupferschmidt, G. Weddle, M. Hines
Third Row: Coach Kennedy, P. Sevin, G. Teppo, D. Shires, B. Harrison, B. Dates, S. Moore, D. Hossler, D. Bruce, J. Arnold, D. Drotar, T. Miller, B. Ridley

Running very well, our Cross Country team placed third in the Regional meet, just missing qualifications for the State Finals. They took the Milford Invitational, and the Redford Union Invitational. They were also Interleague and Conference champions.

Juniors took the first three places in Conference this year. These men were Joe Watson, Bruce Anderson, and Ron McGaw, respectively. The best time for the team was made by Joe Watson: 10 minutes, 4 seconds.

This has been the fastest year for distance running that Coach Kennedy has ever seen.

"It looks excellent for next year. We could go all the way to the State Finals," says Coach Kennedy. With this year's graduating class, he will be losing only three of his first 14 men.

Varsity Football Accomplishes Impressive Season

The varsity football team completed its 1964 season with a 5-3-1 record. Mr. Jack Hayes, assisted by Messrs. Richard Tyler and Douglas Race, coached the team to the third place berth in the Interlakes League.

Spurring on the Falcons' grid efforts were team captain Dick Johnston, outstanding lineman Mike Freeman, and All-League lineman Tom Mitchell.

Even though our team's record was not the best, all those concerned considered it an impressive season.

Round Ballers Have Regretful Season

The intra-mural basketball games are played among boys within the school, informally and in a relaxed manner, more for enjoyment than competition. This activity is sponsored by Mr. Race and is supervised by the boys themselves.

Our Junior Varsity finished second in the Conference after loosing three of its men to the Varsity with 6 wins , 7 losses. Coach Nichols feels that potentially this year's Sophomore team is the best one he has had.

Mr. Race

Our Varsity basket ball team, coached by Mr. Jack Quiggle, had 6 wins and 12 losses. With an unfortunate lack of tall men, our team "gave it all they had." High scorer was Senior John Olander, who was followed by Roy Leach and Mike Wilson.

After winning the first two district games, the team lost the championship trophy to Walled Lake and captured fourth place in the Interlakes League.

Coach Quiggle believes that next year looks even better with so many sophomore and junior boys getting experience on the Varsity team.

Matmen Never Say "Die"

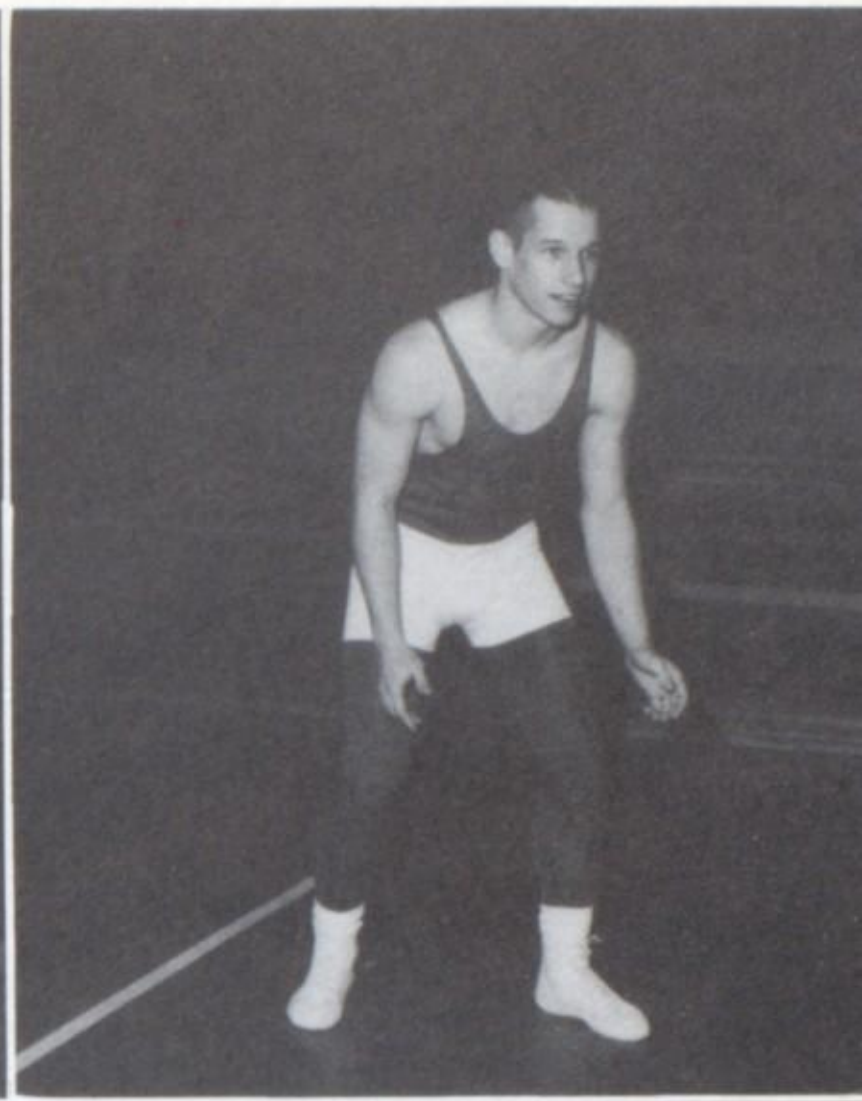

Mr. Gucciardo

The wrestling team had an unlucky season due to a rather poor turnout; however, Mr. Gucciardo hopes for a better showing next year. This is not to say that every matman had a poor season. On the contrary, Art Woehler, 95 lb.; Ron Mortenson, 112 lb.; Dan Heuer, 127 lb.; and Dick Johnston, 154 lb. won the regional tournament. Unfortunately each wrestler lost his preliminary state match.

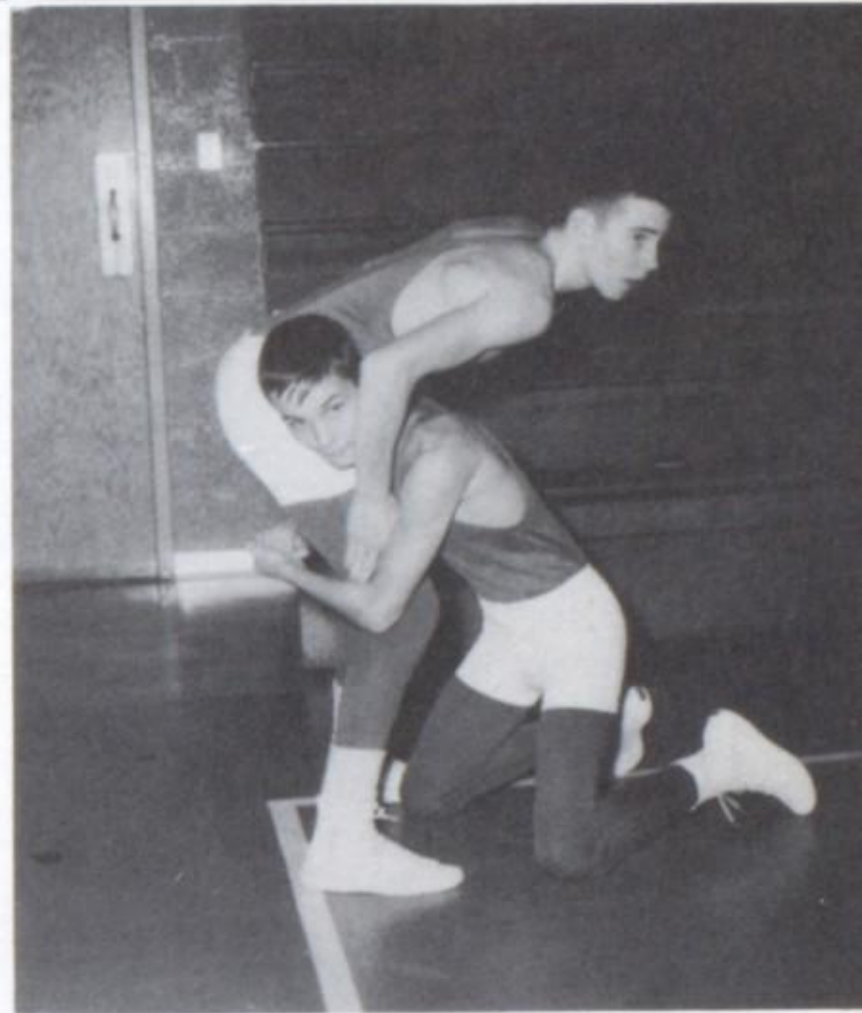

Co-Captains this year were Art Woehler and Ron Mortenson.

First Row: R. Fink, A. Woehler, R. Mortenson, G. Tudball, P. Angelella, C. Evangelista, P. Toohey, Second Row: W. King, M. Foster, G. Liess, K. Farrell, T. Ugrin, B. Patterson; Third Row: T. Hughes, R. Levy, D. Kuffel, J. Gingerich, D. Klawender, T. Dittman, D. Johnston, D. Heuer

The F.H.S. track team had a hopeful year in 1965. Strong in the running department, but weaker in field events, the members of the team expressed their hopes that the Falcon Thinclads would capture the championship of the Interlakes League for the third consecutive year.

The team was coached by Messrs. Kennedy and Race and was managed by Jim Snyder.

Racketeers Keep the Ball Bouncing

The Falcon tennis team, coached by Mr. Gerald Potter, opened it's 1965 season with vigorous practice and high hopes for the forthcoming tournaments. Mr. Potter was pleased to see many of the members of last year's team turn out for spring practice along with numerous sophomore players.

Although many of their scheduled practices were canceled due to poor weather including snow, sleet, hail and rain, the team continued practice inside, sending tennis balls flying until summer finally arrived.

A boy and girl of the Senior Class are presented with the American Legion Award each year. These students possess superior citizenship qualities which include: regard for others and concern for the welfare of the school, self-sacrifice, good sportsmanship, honesty, and helpfulness.

The two seniors to whom the award was presented this year were Kris Hendee, and Mike Mesler.

The Brykalski-Coolman Award is presented yearly to a junior in honor of two students of the Class of 1941 who were killed in World War II. The recipient must have participated in at least one sport in each of his first two years in high school and displayed the qualities of leadership, service, dependability, and scholarship. The award in 1964 was presented to Dick Johnston.

"Courage does not consist in feeling no fear, but in conquering fear. He is the hero who seeing the lions on either side goes straight on, because there his duty lies." And so was Keith Johnson, a senior who was handicapped by a weak heart and died in May, 1940. He not only participated in extracurricular activities, but he also possessed the valuable qualities of honesty, leadership, school spirit, and service.

In memory of this outstanding student, the Keith Johnson Award, the highest honor bestowed by Farmington Senior High, was awarded to Sandy Schulze.

After the Senior Class nominates three candidates who have the qualities of dependability, leadership, patriotism, truthfulness, loyalty, and service, the faculty selects one of the three for the D. A. R. Good Citizen Award.

This year the Three Flags Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution presented the D. A. R. Award to Sandy Schulze.

Competing with 449 other girls, Sandy won the State of Michigan D. A. R. Good Citizen Award. She received a $100 bond from the national society and a $50 bond from the state society.

Annually, the Commerical Award is presented to a student who has taken most of the courses offered by the Commercial Department. The recipient of this award must exhibit a high scholastic ability, a special interest, character, and skill.

It was after these requirements were considered that this year's Commercial Award was presented to Karen Capo.

Each year the French Department gives an award to the student exhibiting superior skill, attentiveness, and achievement in the field. An appreciation of France, her customs and importance is also taken into consideration.

This year's French Award was presented to Debra Halperin.

The Spanish Award is presented to the student who has displayed ability, interest, and achievement in this subject. This year's recipient of the award was John Mosley.

Each year the Latin Award is presented to a student for his comprehension, excellence in pronunciation, translation, and knowledge of Roman culture.

This year the award was presented to Brenda Thompson.

Some people say grammar is the important topic to be studied in English while others declare it is literature. The English Award winners, however, must excel in these as well as in other areas of English. The awards this year were given to Christine McKelvey, Cinda Parsons, Perry Jamieson, Mike Maattala, and King Cotton.

The Journalism Award is presented to a student who has shown outstanding ability in the field of journalism. This student must display initiative, skill, and a special interest in writing.

Larry Adcock was the recipient of this award.

Every year the Mathematics Department presents an award to an exceptional student in that field. In addition to having taken four years of math while in high school, the student must have displayed outstanding interest, ability, workmanship, and scholastic achievement.

The recipients of this year's awards were Sandy Schulze, and Jill McElroy.

This year the Science Department has given an award to an outstanding student in the field of science. This person must be a senior who has displayed a sincere interest in science, and whose scientific activities have extended beyond those of the classroom.

The Science Awards this year were presented to Douglas Boliere and Brian Dates.

The Speech Award is presented to a deserving student who has taken at least one year of speech. In addition to outstanding work in class, the recipient of this award has usually participated in extracurricular activities involving speech.

The recipient of the Speech Award is Cathy Letson.

Trade & Industrial

The prerequisites of the Social Studies Award are initiative, active participation in class and extra curricular activities, and an accumulation of three credits in the subject. This year's awards were given to Kris Hendee, and Perry Jamieson.

The Home Economics Award is presented each year to the outstanding home economics student who best displays good home-making skills, poise and personality, grooming, dependability, tolerance, maturity, and high ideals that are necessary for a successful homemaker. This year's award was presented to Lisa Sundberg.

Each year the Home Economics Department honors a senior girl who has shown outstanding ability in this field. To merit this award, a high score must be achieved on the national homemaking test given each December. The 1965 Betty Crocker Award was given to Mary Jane Schultz.

Each year awards are given to those students in the Industrial Arts Department who have displayed unusual ability and interest in their work. An award is given in each of the three areas of this field: Mechanical Drawing, Metals, and Power Mechanics.

The Band Award is presented annually to the most outstanding member of the Band. The student must have demonstrated exceptional achievement and interest and have rendered service throughout his years at F. H. S.

This year the Band Award was received by Larry Lofquist.

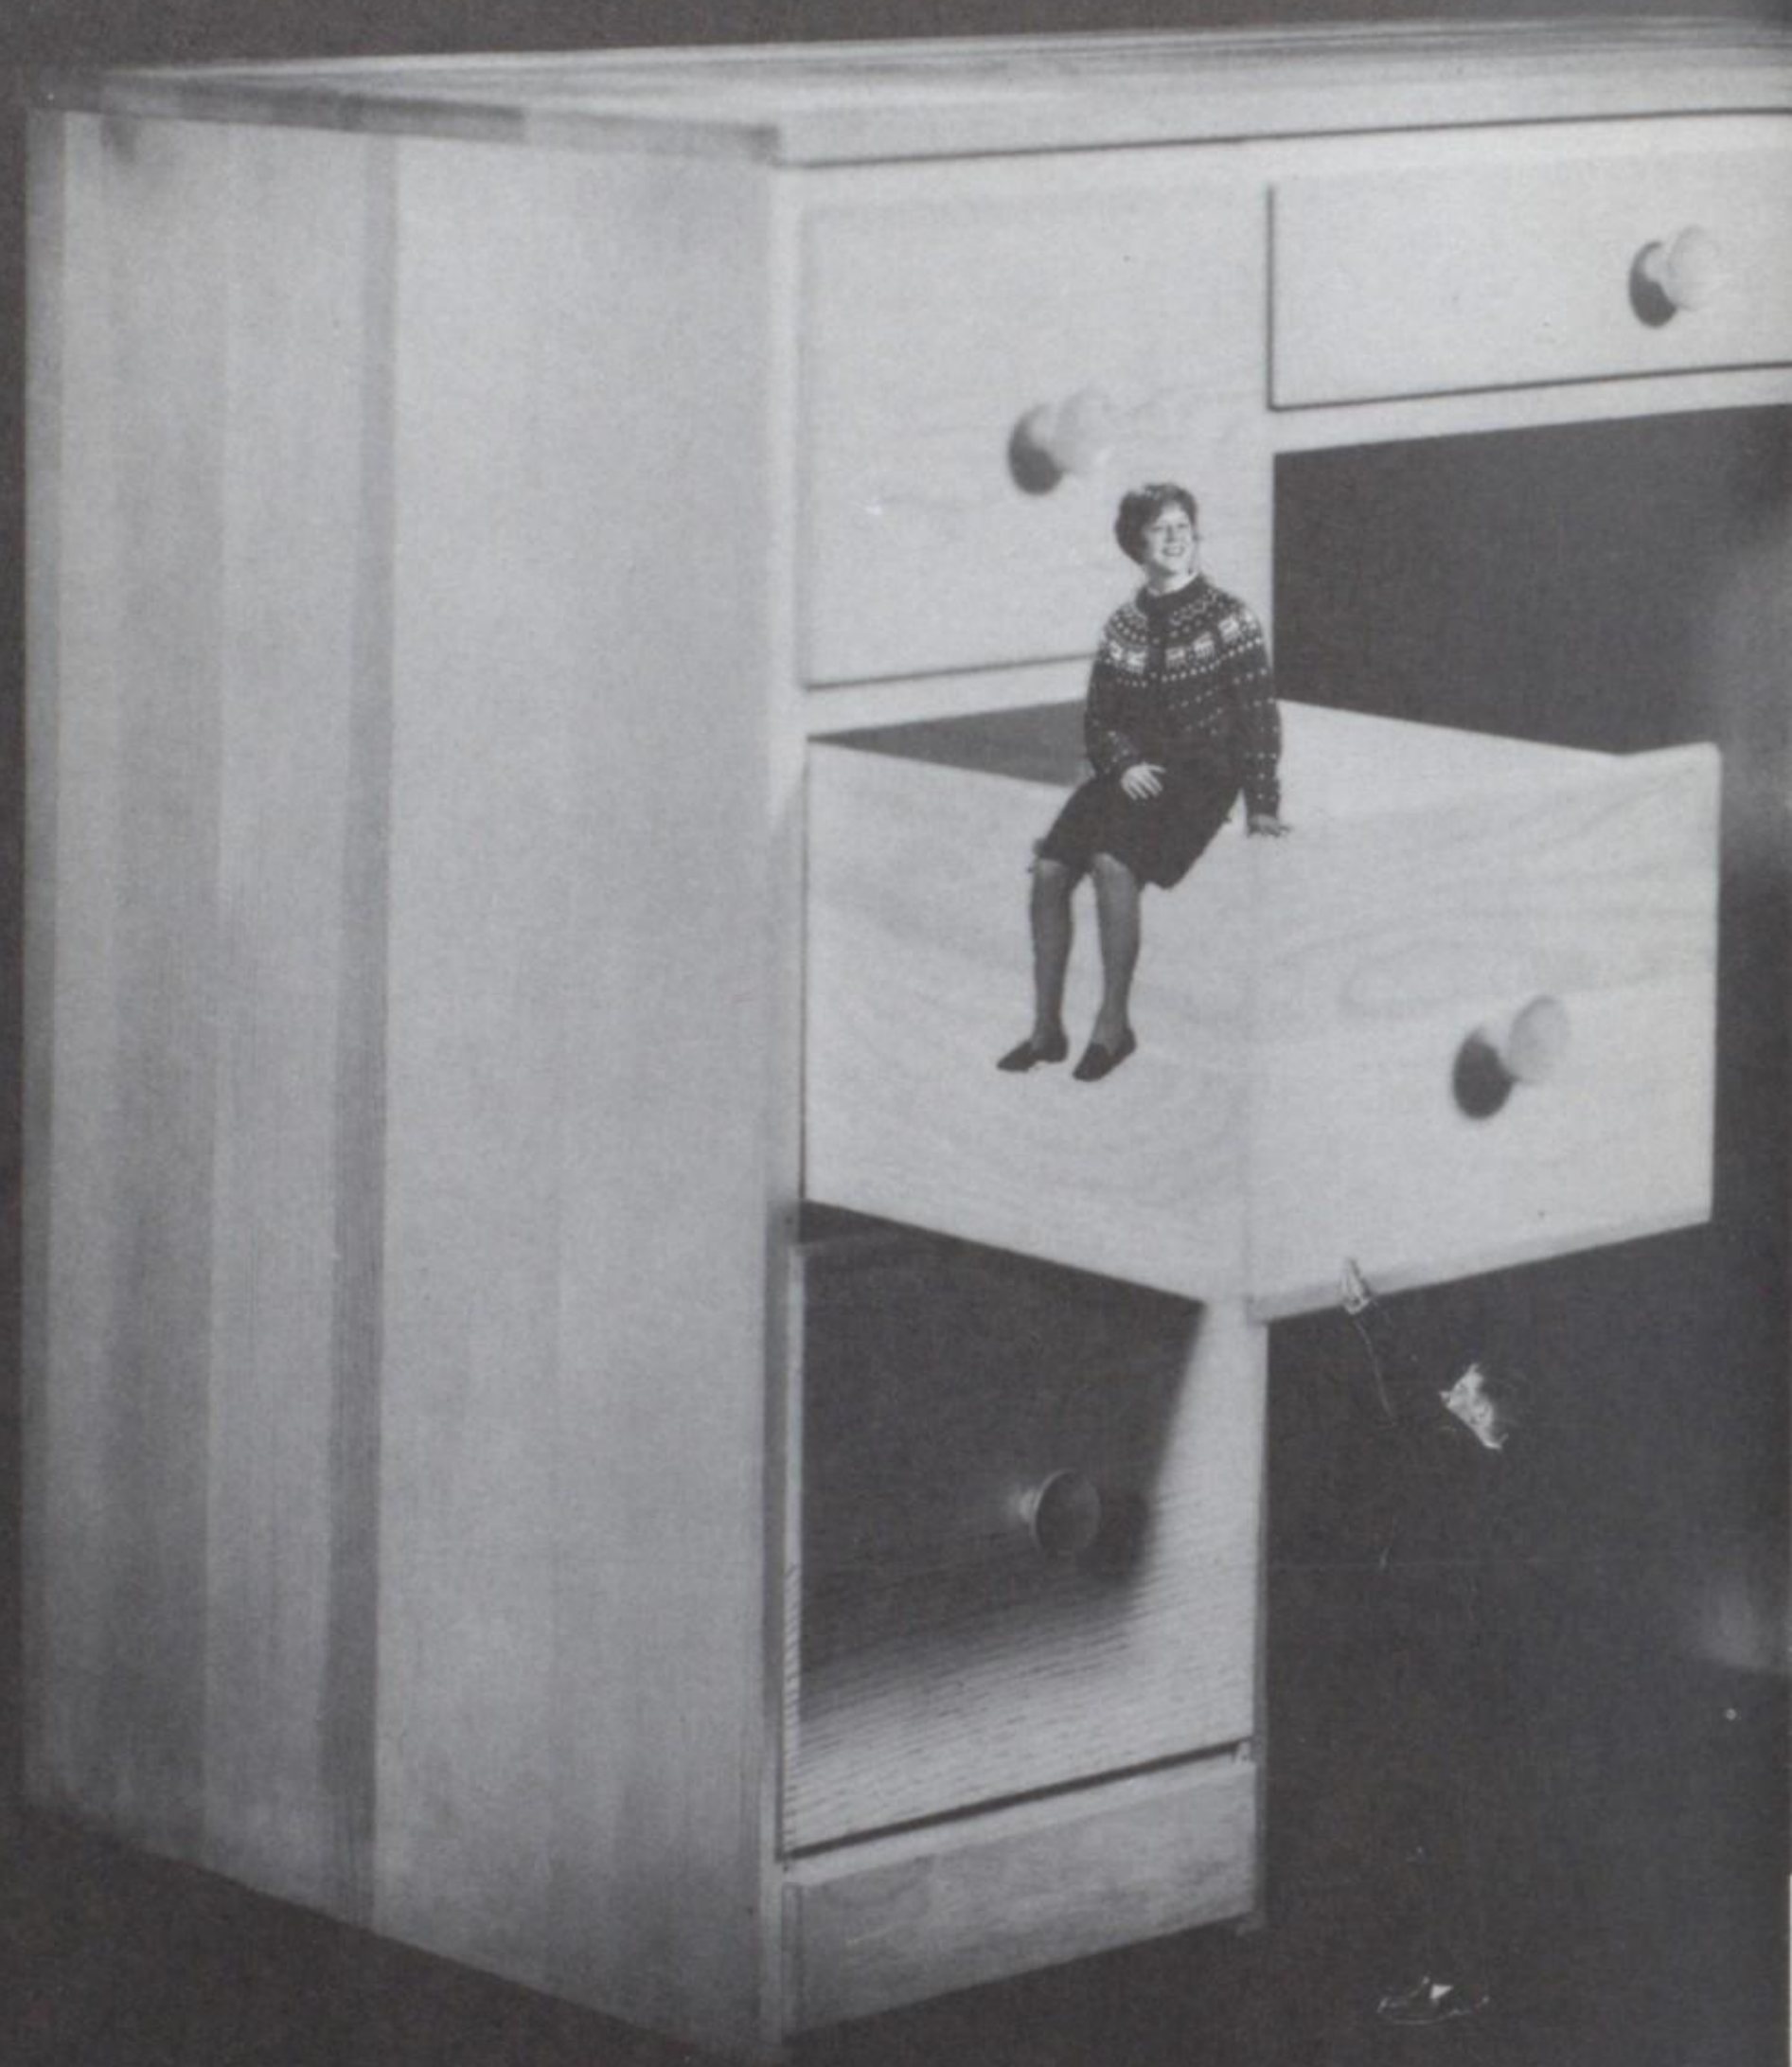

The Art Award is presented to the student who has created the most original and expressive projects during his four years of art. The student must show outstanding work in class as well as participate in extracurricular activities. The student who was recognized this year was Ray Biggs.

The Vocal Music Department presents to its most worthy students awards signifying achievement, talent, service, and co-operation.

This year the awards were presented to Christine McKelvey, and Brian Dates.

Class of 1967

Bob Miller, treasurer; Peg Brown, secretary; Marge Braunstein, vice-president; George Grimala, president

This year's Sophomore Class was unique; for the first time freshmen came from three junior highs. But their mixed origin did not prevent them from uniting into one well organized, active class.

The Sophomore's sponsored a very successful dime dance early last fall. In addition to this, they had their traditional class stomp, "Sophomore Swing." Not to lag in team support, the new-comers sold refreshments at games and almost out yelled the cheerleaders!

Thanks to the experienced advisorship of Mrs. Gummerus and the ability of elected officers George Grimala, President; Marg Braunstein, Vice-President; Peg Brown, Secretary; and Bob Miller, Treasurer, the Sophomores felt their first year in high school was rewarding and satisfying.

Class of 1966

M. Gregory, T. Schwartz, L. Taylor, B. Murphy

Throughout its first year at F. H. S., the Class of 1966 created for itself a reputation of industriousness and fine scholastic achievement. Led by officers Ron Cleveland, Marlynn Conner, Paula Norman, and Bob Murphy, the class sponsored many rewarding and entertaining activities.

This year the Class of '66 has upheld its tradition of animated enthusiasm by participating in many activities such as building a Homecoming float, entitled "Rip Van Winkle," and sponsoring the combined Christmas--J-Hop, "Belles and Beaux."

The class officers this year were Mike Gregory, president; Bob Murphy, vice-president; Thea Schwartz, secretary; and Linda Taylor, treasurer. Mr. Barrons was the class advisor.

Class of 1965

Leaving the Farmington Junior High after an unforgettable Freshman Dance, "Aloha," the class anticipated a more rewarding experience in the next three years.

As very energetic Sophomores, the Class of 1965 plunged enthusiastically into the first of many steps toward gaining the coveted title of "Seniors." The class opened its new frontier by selling refreshments at games, holding a dime dance, and presenting the "Harvest Hop" which proved to be a great success.

An excited Junior class carried on the glorious tradition of past Junior classes by winning the Homecoming Parade float contest. The high point of the Junior social season was the J-Hop, "Lollipops and Roses," a truly delightful evening.

As the final days of their high school career elapsed, the class crammed their schedules with activities, such as the Senior Play, selling refreshments at games, making a float for the Homecoming parade, sponsoring a dime dance, and choosing a class gift for the school. To the dismay and disappointment of many individuals, the Senior Class Trip was not possible. The final social event of the year was the Senior Prom, held at Lovette Hall in Greenfield Village on May 22, 1965. Certain anxiety was felt by each senior as he prepared for the final step, graduation, which ended three memorable years at Farmington Senior High School on June 17, 1965.
